The 20th edition of the International Conference on Digital Preservation is taking place in Ghent from 16 to 20 September 2024. Four organizations act as a core consortium for the organisation of iPRES 2024. They are: Digital Archives Flanders, Ghent University, Meemoo, Flemish Institute for Archives, and VRT is the public broadcaster of the Flemish Community in Belgium. iPRES is a major conference series on digital preservation, which runs since 2004, with annual iPRES conferences in rotation on four continents.

This conference offers a very rich programme, bringing together a strong community of scientists, students, researchers, archivists, librarians, digital content providers, and other experts. Workshops, presentations, tutorials, panels and posters will be the occasion to share recent developments and to learn about the results of innovative projects.
