

AQUA final conference and INCULTUM

The AQUA final conference is the concluding event of the Horto Aquam Salutarem research project, financed by Fundação para a Ciência e a Tecnologia in Portugal (PTDC/HAR-HIS/28627/2017).

Prof. Desidério Batista, as researcher in the project and member of the scientific committee of the conference, is going to include presentation of the INCULTUM University of Algarve team to discuss the Portuguese pilot set in Campina de Faro.

The event will be held in Lisbon, on 26th and 27th of September 2022. The main objective is to present achievements and actively discuss, within an interdisciplinary context, the topic of water from a historical-scientific and historical-technological perspective.

A call for papers is open until the 9th of September
