

CitizenHeritage presented as a best practice in Erasmus University Rotterdam roundtable on citizen science

Citizen Science & Engaged Research: Showcase of best practices

Wednesday 19 Oct 2022, 15.00 - 16.30

In this showcase event organized by Erasmus University Rotterdam, engaged researchers from EUR/EMC came together to share what makes their citizen science - and related engaged - research successful and how to avoid pitfalls.

Erasmus University Rotterdam

Education ▾ Research ▾ About EUR ▾ Working at ▾ Campus ▾ News & Calendar ▾ Contact

What is citizen science, how does it look like at EUR/Erasmus MC and how do you start your citizen science research?

What are the different ways to do citizen science and what are their pros and cons?

How do collaborations with non-professional researchers arise?

What are the roles and responsibilities of the different parties, how to secure them and what are the opportunities and risks?

CitizenHeritage and its results so far were presented by Dr. Trilce Navarrete, Assistant professor in the economic and historic aspects of digital heritage.

Link to event: <https://www.eur.nl/en/events/citizen-science-engaged-research-showcase-best-practices-2022-10-19>

Download the presentation by Dr. Navarrete, PDF 1 Mb