

creJAM week - online debate about technology and creative industry

From the 3rd to the 7th of November, the CRE-AM project will host an online debate with its community of technology developers and creative practitioners.

Each day during the #creJAM week, we will launch a challenge or ask a question concerning the relation between technology and the creative industries, and upload information to feed the debate. Become visible in the CRE-AM community by participating and debating with other participants. Each day the best answers and most active users will be announced as winners and featured on CRE-AM website and social media.

The rules are simple:

- One question or challenge per day
- You can join the debate on Facebook, Twitter and LinkedIn
- Use the #creJAM hashtag and identify your sector of activity by its initials

Sectors:

- Architecture
- Art
- Design
- e-Publishing
- Games
- Media
- Music
- Technology

Learn more: <http://www.cre-am.eu/crejam-cross-technology-creative-industries/>

