CULTURA @ AIUCD 2013

The final results of the CULTURA project have been presented and disseminated at the 2nd AIUCD Annual Conference 2013 on Collaborative Research Practices and Shared Infrastructures for Humanities Computing, hosted by the Department of Information Engineering of the University of Padua.

The AIUCD (Associazione Italiana per l'Informatica Umanistica e la Cultura Digitale) focused for its annual conference on interdisciplinary work and new developments in the field of the digital humanities.

Jan Christoph Meister, keynote speaker from the University of Hamburg? in Germany, presented the work of Narratology's most famous fore runner, the Russian folklorist Vladimir Propp's, highlighting its affinity to a digital humanities approach.
