

daisie is a playground for creative collaboration, exchange and networking daisie is a new app designed by a hugely passionate team who cares about the future of creatives in a rapidly changing world: daisie supports creatives work together and discover one another, by sharing original content, and facilitating exchange and networking.

The app is dedicated to filmmakers, writers, readers, listeners & speakers, poets, dancers, singers, chefs, entrepreneurs, developers & architects, for establishing a community that thrives on collaboration, and where creators are credited properly for their work and the roles they had and the impact they made on the overall project.

daisie allows to explore creative work in film, fashion, music, photography, art and literature, and to interact directly with the inspirational people who work in these fields.

daisie is available worldwide on the App Store.
