Digital Cultural Heritage as a lab for fostering win-win collaboration between the public and the private sector

PHOTOCONSORTIUM, the international consortium for photographic heritage, organized its annual event 2018 in Barcelona, hosted by Generalitat de Catalunia ? GENCAT in the beautiful locations of the Department of Culture.

While the Association's general assembly took place on 11th June, a public conference is organized the day after.

Generalitat de Catalunya
Departament de Cultura

SANTAMÒNICA

]]
?Digital Cultural Heritage as a lab for fostering win-win collaboration between the public and the private sector? ? half day conference

Santa Mònica Art Centre, La Rambla 7 Barcelona

12 June 2018

10.00 Welcome message / Anna Busom, GENCAT

10.10 The road from object to story: metadata as a gateway to unlocking digital heritage / Fred Truyen, Photoconsortium president

10.30 Photoconsortium collections in Europeana: Europeana Photography and Migration / Sofie Taes, curator

10.50 break

11.20 EU funding digital cultural heritage: how to succeed in a European project / Antonella Fresa, Photoconsortium vicepresident

11.40 Connecting Culture with Europeana / Douglas McCarthy, Europeana

12.00 Panel discussion: Experiences of collaboration, sustainability and best practices around photographic heritage and new technologies

- Chair: David I. Frank, CRDI]

- Confirmed Participants: András Török, Fortepan; Frank Golomb, United Archives; Ismo Malinen, National Board of Antiquities; Allison Kupietzky, the Israel Museum; Erik Buelinkx, KIK-IRPA; Douglas Mc Carthy, Europeana.]

13.00 Closing of the event

Attendance was free. Contact: info@photoconsortium.net.]

