This page was exported from - Digital meets Culture
Export date: Tue Nov 17 1:47:59 2026 / +0000 GMT

EuroMed 2024: the 10th International Euro-Mediterranean Conference on Digital Cultural Heritage

Organized by Cyprus University of Technology, conference EuroMed 2024 offers the Cultural Heritage community the opportunity to come together and exchange our know-how, explore our research and discuss development in our field, current and future, from both regional and global perspectives. The conference, celebrating its 10th edition in 2024, provides a unique opportunity to present results, review outcomes, and draw new inspiration with our friends, colleagues and peers.

EuroMed 2024 focus is on interdisciplinary research ? cutting-edge technologies for the protection, preservation, conservation, and massive digitalisation of Cultural Heritage ? and the emerging cross-sector Cultural Heritage Knowledge Economy ? innovations ready for market exploitation, novel sustainable approaches towards heritage management, and new technologies available to user communities, SMEs, owners, managers and conservators of cultural patrimony.

Learn more and discover the programme at this link.