

Codec

A codec is a device or computer program for encoding or decoding a digital data stream or signal.