

Memory Institution

An organization maintaining a repository of public knowledge, a generic term used about institutions such as libraries, archives, museums, sites and monument records, clearinghouses, providers of Digital Libraries and data aggregation services which serve as memories for given societies or mankind.