Synthetic files

Normative implementation. Data created with the specific purpose of pinpointing some specific compliance problem or critical issue for a given preservation format. Synthetic files are synthetic in the sense that they are purposefully created to test a specific functionality of the validator.