

veraPDF Configuration

The detailed settings which configure an invocation of the veraPDF Conformance Checker. Configuration settings are logically divided into:

- task config: settings controlling the behaviour of a component, these are reusable across executions and installations;
- installation config: settings unique to a particular installation, such as home and temp directories;
- execution config: settings unique to a particular invocation, such as files or URLs to check, names of output report files.