

Image Research and its Futures, workshop in London

Image Research and its Futures is a AHRC-funded workshop, in the framework of the project Looking at Images: A Researcher's Guide, organised by the Winchester School of Art and Goldsmiths on 19 June 2014.

The workshop covered a diverse range of image-related research projects and methodologies. Plenty of time was given to discussion for consideration of institutional, ethical, intellectual and practical matters when devising, conducting and disseminating image-based work.

Among the speakers, Joanna Zylinska from Goldsmiths was invited for a presentation, where she also illustrated about the Open & Hybrid Publishing pilot and more in general about Europeana Space.

Further information of the workshop: <http://blog.soton.ac.uk/wsapgr/workshop-2/>