SECreTour Network of Common Interest
The SECreTour Network is growing!

R-MAP is the acronym of the project titled Mapping, understanding, assessing and predicting the effects of remote working arrangements in urban and rural areas.

R-Map is a three-year project funded by the European Union under the Horizon Europe Programme, started on 2024. It brings together 12 dedicated partners from across Europe. Its mission is to study comprehesively the urban-rural gap and to address how it is influenced by remote work.

R-Map's approach includes cross-regional dialogues and policy roundtables to ensure that the findings and recommendations are applicable across diverse regions in Europe and beyond. By understanding and shaping the trends related to remote work, R-Map aims to create environments suitable for both urban and rural settings.

By using state-of-the-art research methods and working closely with stakeholders, the project's mission is to provide data-driven solutions and tackle the ongoing challenge of bridging the urban-rural gap, recognizing the influence of remote work on social, spatial, economic and environmental aspects.
