

OUT NOW: New Podcast IN SITU Dialogues

NEWS from the SECReTour
Network of common interest

The IN SITU project participates in the SECReTOUR Network of Common Interest where the activities of the members of the network are promoted.

As part of the collaboration, we are glad to announce the launch of the IN SITU Dialogues!

Place-based creativity from the ground up: a new podcast exploring how cultural and creative industries shape non-urban Europe.

Across 8 monthly episodes (Oct 2025?Spring 2026), the series will spotlight voices from 12 case studies in six regions, sharing stories of artists, entrepreneurs, and community leaders driving culture-based development.

Episode 1 features Nancy Duxbury and Mark Rainey in conversation with host Maria Batle, introducing the project's aims and the role of IN SITU Labs in supporting local creativity and innovation.
