

Registration is now open for the 2021 European Research and Innovation Days

The EU annual meeting has recently opened the door to registration. This second on line edition is planned for the 23th and the 24th June 2021. As every year this Research and Innovation event organised by the European Commission, will bring together policymakers, researchers, entrepreneurs and the public to debate and shape the future of research and innovation in Europe and beyond.

The rich two-day programme will foster connections and collaborations between individuals and experts from all areas and will assure a dynamic and interdisciplinary discussion. The virtual event consists of two main areas: the Event Area (which hosts Live Sessions, Workshops, the Horizon Village, the Networking and the Game Zone) and the European Research and Innovation Exhibition featuring over 100 of the best research and innovation projects. Participants will be able to move easily from one area to the other and discover all interactive features available.

The European Research and Innovation Days is an unmissable event for all those who are willing to build a greener and more digital future. Participate!!! Register now and reach more information here. Follow the event on social media! #RIDaysEU
