REMOTE WORK IN EUROPE: Evidence, Impacts, Policy

NEWS from the SECreTour Network of common interest

The R.Map project, member of the SECreTOUR Network of Common Interest, is organising a Joint research symposium in collaboration with WinWin4WorkLife and REMAKING projects.

The event will take place in hybrid format accessible online and onsite at ZEW ? Leibniz Centre for European Economic Research in Mannheim, Germany.

The Symposium will be the occasion to know about the mid-term insights from the three Horizon Europe projects and their proposed policy recommendations.

The programme of the event is available for download here.

Those interested to participate can join either in person in Mannheim, Germany, or online, following the registration link.
