Restoration of the Old Primary School in Demati Zagori village

The High Mountains Social Cooperative launched a crowdsourcing campaign for the restoration of the Old Primary School in Demati Zagori village.

The goal of the initiative is to transform the school, which has been closed since the 1980s, into a Mountain Support Centre. This centre will serve as a place of gathering, cooperation and sustainable development - revitalising the village and supporting the mountain communities in the area.

More information about the campaign can be found here.

The poster is also available for download.

The High Mountain has been partner in the INCULTUM project, leading the pilot in the Aoos Valley.
