The European heritage tribune newsletter: the first pan-European news platform for all people involved in cultural heritage in Europe.

EHT is a free digital newsletter for European heritage professionals. It aims to build a lasting European network by sharing knowledge, connecting people and the cultural and creative sectors.
With its monthly publication, it offers an overview of the most important heritage news, calls, events, opinions and best practices from all European Countries, covering a very wide range of themes such as digitization, sustainable tourism, archeology, policy, intangible heritage, building.
The European Heritage Tribune is the lasting legacy of the European Year of Cultural Heritage 2018: it is independent, non-profit and is sustained with the support of a host of partners and sponsors both private and public. The website offers the possibility to reach calls, events, select news by theme and it recently hosts the blog of ESACH, the European Students' Association for Cultural Heritage], a captivating communication channel for sharing young people's perspectives on cultural heritage. The Heritage Tribune also offers to be a communication or dissemination partner in European projects on culture and cultural heritage: among others, the newsletter currently supports the UNCHARTED project to enlarge its audience and to communicate its progress to the International community of researchers.
