Mining Treasures of Central Slovakia: successful INCULTUM pilot

An international conference dedicated to the Mining Cultural Heritage of Central Slovakia was held in the city of Banská Bystrica on April 25, 2025, as part of the international innovation project INCULTUM.

The goal of the conference was to present the mining heritage of central Slovakia, with a focus on the Barbora route, to exchange knowledge and experience from the development of mining cultural routes in Europe with members of Mines B. ? European Mining Routes of Santa Barbara Federation and beyond, and to strengthen the creation of networks between various interested parties to support the use of the participatory platform Mining Treasures.

The conference was attended by international guests from six foreign countries, namely Italy, Spain, Belgium, Slovenia, and Poland.

The report of the conference is available for download (PDF)].
