

The REACH project at Silk Cities conference 2019

The international Conference "Reconstruction Recovery and Resilience of Historic Cities and Societies" will take place at L'Aquila from 10 to 12 of July 2019.

It is organized by Silk Cities an independent professional and academic initiative for contextual knowledge exchange, research and advocacy.

In the framework of Small Town Heritage pilot action, Paola Branduini and Fabio Carnelli, from Politecnico di Milan, associate partner of the REACH project, in collaboration with Mauro Fazio, MISE, will present the first findings of the survey from North Italy about the preservation of rural landscapes as a tool for building resilience in the context of small towns.

The main topics of the conference will be:

- Managing reconstruction, heritage and city planning
- City recovery: social, psychological, economic and cultural heritage
- Linking urban resilience and cultural heritage

A special sessions on L'Aquila is planned
