Webinar: Dreaming of AI: Perspectives on AI Use in Cultural Heritage

BPOC - BALBOA PARK ONLINE COLLABORATIVE is facilitating another open discussion on the use of AI in cultural heritage. In this session, we have invited Kerry Kennedy, Public Art Coordinator with the DC Commission on the Arts and Humanities, and Dr. Eve Zucker, Sociocultural Anthropologist, to open up our conversation.

Kerry and Eve will talk about their work, AI's role and impact, and ethical considerations in the first part of the webinar. In the second part, audience members will be invited to ask questions or share their thoughts or own experiences with AI. Please come ready with questions, thoughts, opinions, and ideas. We are also conducting a survey to give an opportunity to share their thoughts asynchronously. Survey findings will be published later this year at the conclusion of the AI discussions.
